Therapy for your peace of mind

Relationship Guru

Do you have questions concerning your relationship?

Are you unsure how to let that special someone know how much he or she means to you?

Perhaps it's the challenge of expressing your emotions concerning a particular issue or action? In any case, our relationship guru is here to answer these questions. We like to think of him as kind of Dear Abby, except with a license (We love you Abby!)

Write your first name and e-mail address in the appropriate lines below followed by your question. Our relationship guru will then answer these questions within the week on this very web page.
